Peer Reviewer's Names: _____

Writer's Name _____

Y=Yes, S=Somewhat, N=No →	Y	S	N
1) Does the title engage the reader (and hint at the topic and tone)?
2) Is the story limited to a particular time – less than 30 minutes or so?
3) Does the story have a clear beginning, middle, and end?
4) Does the narrative include enough vivid details through Snapshots: Sketch-a-Person and Sketch-a-Place?
5) Does the narrative include Thoughtshots that let us know what the narrator is thinking and feeling?
6) Does the narrative include effective dialog with a variety of tags (other than said )?
7) Are the sentences written in a clear way that makes it easy for the reader to follow?
8) Does the story end with a logical and satisfying conclusion that explains or hints at why this memory is important or significant?

Comments: Peer Reviewers may discuss before commenting – One should be responsible for writing comments that are easy to read.

Star: Name your favorite part of the narrative:

Wish: Name one suggestion the writer might consider in the rewrite:

Explain: If you marked Somewhat or No in the rubric, explain why:
