

Quickwrite Review for Personal Narratives

These are the Quickwrites from Oct 12-14. All four should be in your WN. Choose one for your Personal Narrative.

Activity: Timeline Quick Write

1. Turn to the Positive/Negative Timeline you created in your WN on Sept. 3rd.
2. Choose one experience from your timeline to write about.
3. Drafting: Write for five minutes all that comes to mind when you think about that experience. Tell the story of that experience from your own (first person) point of view. Include as many details as possible to help your reader imagine what the experience was like for you.

Activity: Early Elementary Quick Write

1. Prewriting: Take two minutes to list all of the experiences you can remember from your early elementary years (preschool through third grade). This may include things that happened at school, at home, at Grandma's house, at the ball park, etc.
2. Choose one experience from this list to write about.
3. Drafting: Write for five minutes all that comes to mind when you think about that experience. Tell the story of that experience from your own (first person) point of view. Include as many details as possible to help your reader imagine what the experience was like for you.

Activity: Upper Elementary Quick Write

1. Prewriting: Take two minutes to list all of the experiences you can remember from your upper elementary years (fourth through sixth grade). This may include things that happened at school, at home, at the lake, on the basketball court, etc.
2. Choose one experience from this list to write about.
3. Drafting: Write for five minutes all that comes to mind when you think about that experience. Tell the story of that experience from your own (first person) point of view. Include as many details as possible to help your reader imagine what the experience was like for you.

Activity: Junior High School Quick Write

1. Prewriting: Take two minutes to list all of the experiences you can remember from your junior high school years (seventh and eighth grade). This may include things that happened at school, at home, at your best friend's house, on the football field, etc.
2. Choose one experience from this list to write about.
3. Drafting: Write for five minutes all that comes to mind when you think about that experience. Tell the story of that experience from your own (first person) point of view. Include as many details as possible to help your reader imagine what the experience was like for you.