

VOCABULARY CHOICES

When choosing vocabulary to add to each weekly list, it is important that you cite or explain your source. Example a below shows how to cite your source when it is from a book. Examples b, c, and d show how to explain your source w/ details about who, context, and date.

Each week, you are to add words to your Vocabulary list. Those words may come from your reading (BFP, AOW, other) and/or from your listening to others. You must add at least one Vocabulary Choice per week. If you do not take the time in class, make sure you do it for homework.

Ms. Durham's Vocabulary Choices from Week 10:

- a) "The week before Robin had left for college, she had surreptiously added a brochure [to the refrigerator]." (Bauermeister, Joy for Beginners, 2011, 2)
surreptitious (adj) done or made known by secret or stealthy means (adv) = surreptiously
- b) "Sounds nefarious huh?" (sarcastic comment from a friend in response to a Facebook post via Bernie Sanders, October 22, 2013)
nefarious (adj) (typically of an action or activity) wicked or criminal
- c) "Ms. Durham, these books were found lying askew in the hallway." (Mr. Owens, as he returned books to Ms. Durham during 5th hour, October 23, 2013)
askew (adj) not in a straight or level position.
- d) "... butterflies opening and closing themselves in your cupped palms, trusting you not to injure their scintillant fur, their dust." (D. Levertov, "A Gift" via a FB posting by Parker Palmer, October 25, 2013)
scintillant (adj) sparkling

VOCABULARY CHOICES

When choosing vocabulary to add to each weekly list, it is important that you cite or explain your source. Example a below shows how to cite your source when it is from a book. Examples b, c, and d show how to explain your source w/ details about who, context, and date.

Each week, you are to add words to your Vocabulary list. Those words may come from your reading (BFP, AOW, other) and/or from your listening to others. You must add at least one Vocabulary Choice per week. If you do not take the time in class, make sure you do it for homework.

Ms. Durham's Vocabulary Choices from Week 10:

- a) "The week before Robin had left for college, she had surreptiously added a brochure [to the refrigerator]." (Bauermeister, Joy for Beginners, 2011, 2)
surreptitious (adj) done or made known by secret or stealthy means (adv) = surreptiously
- b) "Sounds nefarious huh?" (sarcastic comment from a friend in response to a Facebook post via Bernie Sanders, October 22, 2013)
nefarious (adj) (typically of an action or activity) wicked or criminal
- c) "Ms. Durham, these books were found lying askew in the hallway." (Mr. Owens, as he returned books to Ms. Durham during 5th hour, October 23, 2013)
askew (adj) not in a straight or level position.
- d) "... butterflies opening and closing themselves in your cupped palms, trusting you not to injure their scintillant fur, their dust." (D. Levertov, "A Gift" via a FB posting by Parker Palmer, October 25, 2013)
scintillant (adj) sparkling