

Name _____
Date _____
Hour _____
Due _____

Chapter 16 The Rise of Industrial America
Anticipation Guide

Directions: Read Ch. 16 pages 468 – 495. Determine if the following statements are true or false. Under every statement you must include the page #, column # and paragraph # AND a statement of evidence to support your answer.

1. T/F America appeared to have all of the necessary items in order to undergo the Second Industrial Revolution.

2. T/F Besides transporting goods the railroad industry provided little to the industrializing nation.

3. T/F Monopolies were championed by most Americans.

4. T/F Andrew Carnegie successfully used vertical and horizontal integration into the oil industry.

5. T/F John D. Rockefeller was the typical robber baron.

6. T/F The Sherman Anti-Trust Act was a success.

7. T/F Manufacturing created a public demand for their product by producing a better product.

8. T/F Markets for American made goods began to increase during this period.

9. T/F The use of machines did little to change the lifestyles of the skilled worker.

10. T/F Relationship between employer and employee improved only slightly in the second half of the 19th Century.

11. T/F The most difficult obstacle in creating unions were allowing skilled and unskilled to unionize.

12. T/F The number of satisfied working women entering the workforce decreased.

13. T/F Horatio Alger's Ragged Dick accurately depicted the life of Andrew Carnegie.

14. T/F Corporations successfully labeled the Knights of Labor as anarchists and reduced their importance in the labor movement.

15. T/F At the conclusion of the 19th Century, labor unions had witnessed a period of growth and success.