

'POINTS OF VIEW'

POINT OF VIEW (POV):

- a.) First Person POV - In a first-person narrative the story is told by a narrator who is also a character within the story, so that the narrator reveals the plot by referring to this viewpoint character as "I" (or, when plural, "we").
- b.) Second Person POV - second-person narrative mode, in which the narrator refers to one of the characters as "you", therefore making the audience member feel as if he or she is a character within the story.
- c.) Third Person POV - In the third-person narrative mode, each and every character is referred to by the narrator as "he", "she", "it", or "they", but never as "I" or "we" (first-person), or "you" (second-person).

This assignment has TWO parts:

Part 1

1. Identify the point of view that your story is written. Write that on the point of view line.
2. On the line that says character, write the entire name of the character that your novel is written from.
3. Locate three pieces of evidence that prove the point of view that your story is written from. The evidence you use to prove the point of view must be cited and punctuated correctly. (quotations, parentheses, author)

Part 2

1. Choose one rising action or the climax to rewrite from a different character's point of view that was involved.

Example: Freak the Mighty

"I have loved that boy like he was my own ever since his momma died. It was so tragic that she died the way she did. I am so scared that his horrible old man will come back for him. Late at night, I stay up late sometimes just peering through the curtains at the street... praying that his no good father never comes back."

2. The rewrite must have a minimum of 10 sentences and contain dialogue and be punctuated correctly.
3. Staple the rewrite to the graphic organizer to turn in.
